CD Officials Have Plan Of Action

Blood Donor Need Stressed

Shortage Reported By Red Cross Here

Miss Hazel Linn, executive secretary of the Salem Chapter American Red Cross, reported today that the temporary acute shortage of blood at the Cleveland Regional Blood Center necessitated a call for blood donors for the two local hospitals.

The shortage of blood in Cleveland resulted from the long holiday weekend during which time Bloodmobile units did not operate, and strikes in major Cleveland plants which recently prevented Bloodmobile visits to the struck plants, she explained.

Miss Linn explained that blood procured by the Cleveland Regional Blood Center was pooled and distributed regularly to the participating hospitals on the basis of need.

Twenty-one blood donors reported Thursday to the local hospitals and several more Friday. These donations of blood will be credited by the Cleveland Regional Center against local shortages of donors.

8 Hydrogen Bombs 'Hit' Ohio Centers

WESTERVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Eight mock hydrogen bombs fell on Ohio Friday, theoretically destroying major population centers and subjecting the entire state to a simulated radio-active fallout.

As part of the nationwide operation alert—an imaginary enemy attack—simulated H-bombs fell on Toledo, Columbus, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Youngstown.

Although it was only a practice exercise, communications at Civil Defense headquarters here were as weak as if it had been the real thing. Reports of simulated H-bomb bursts did not reach here until hours after they were reported at the scene. Some 12 hours after the last mock H-bomb fell, there was still no estimate of casualties.

There seemed also to be some confusion about the number of persons evacuated from target zones. At one time CD headquarters listed as evacuated from Columbus about twice the population of the city.

A few minutes after the first alert at 11:00 a. m., Gov. C. William O'Neill and his staff evacuated the Statehouse in Columbus and set up temporary headquarters on the Ohio Wesleyan University campus in Delaware.

Gov. O'Neill was pleased with the "smoothness" of the state government's evacuation and said he "felt confident that continuity of government would prevail in the event of actual attack."

All the mock H-bombs fell within a period of 17 minutes. Toledo was hit first with an aerial burst at 2:06 p. m. Ten minutes later, two bombs fell on Cleveland. Two bombs hit Columbus at 2:17 p. m. and two fell on Cincinnati at 2:18. The last simulated bomb fell on Youngstown at 2:23 p. m.

By GORDON ARNDT

Local Civilian Defense officials are currently participating in the nationwide defense alert, all mock action, but just what would happen if enemy planes were known to be heading this way?

CD and Red Cross authorities can answer that question, maybe not too reassuringly to the average citizen but only to point out that Civilian Defense, Red Cross and Area Defense Corps are ready with a plan of action, if and when.

WILLIAM WARK, local and Columbiana County CD director, points out first that the Air Force probably would detect any enemy aircraft at least two to three hours ahead of time and would alert critical areas for evacuation. Wark said this on the assumption that intercontinental missiles have not been perfected.

He said that in this area 125,000 people would be evacuated from Youngstown (where steel mills would be a target) and moved into Columbiana County.

He explained that the plan would be set up so that each local family would take in an equal amount of evacuated persons as there are members in their family.

"Seventy-five per cent of the people would join families in cities and 25 per cent in the rural areas," he added.

THE EVACUEES would be responsible for their transportation outside of what would be handled by U.S. Army vehicles. They would be given designated areas in which to park. These areas would be outside the city proper.

Columbiana County is working with two other Ohio and two Pennsylvania counties in control problems that would arise in this area. The counties are Trumbull and Mahoning along with Lawrence and Mercer in Pennsylvania.

Wark said that a yellow alert would result in all radio and television stations going on a definite radio pattern known as "CONELRAD." He said this is a scientific word applied to a system whereby stations would keep authorities up to date on what to expect.

THIS RADIO PATTERN would broadcast civil defense messages 15 seconds at a time so that enemy planes could not pick up their frequencies.

Wark explained that a red alert would follow the yellow one and upon it all persons would be directed to take cover, both those on streets and on the open road. CONELRAD would keep persons up to date on when they could come out of cover. Wark explained that there would be no all-out attack.

Lisbon Driver Hurt When Car Leaves Road

Norman Day, 36, of RD 1, Lisbon, is reported in fair condition at Salem City Hospital where he was admitted for treatment of lacerations of the face, neck and back injuries received in an accident on Rt. 164, five miles south of Lisbon at 6:35 p. m. Friday.

Day lost control of his car and ran into the ditch and overturned, state patrol reported.

H-Bombs 'Blas' 153 Targets

Tens Of Millions Of People 'Killed'

NEWSPOINT, Operation Alert (AP)—Hampered by hitches, delays and admitted foul-ups, the Civil Defense forces of Operation Alert struggled today against a make-believe nuclear holocaust.

It's enormity grew by the hour. The presumed "enemy" who swept across the North Pole Friday with H-bombs to spare and supersonic bombers to deliver them had "smashed" at least 153 vital U. S. targets.

An early-morning bulletin said "countless lives" were saved by nationwide Civil Defense measures. But tens of millions were lost, hypothetically speaking, and the ravages of airborne contamination were yet to be felt.

"It is too early to tell whether the exercise is a success or flop," one official said. "The results will be trickling in for days."

"We've had painful delays in communications. But the real thing would be a lot slower."

President Eisenhower, after a helicopter flight from a capital that was theoretically blasted soon after, was in safe "hiding." A mock national emergency was in force, and a rudimentary "war effort" was being patched together, on paper.

At another secret headquarters, the twin problems of civilian survival and of assessing what remained to fight with were being dealt with by leaders of the Federal Civil Defense Administration (FCDA) and the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM).

Damascus Firemen Open Annual Festival

The Damascus Volunteer Firemen opened their annual homecoming and festival Friday night at the Goshen Union High School. A supper was served to a large crowd. The event continues tonight, starting at 5.

A parade last night included 50 units, fire trucks from Damascus, Sebring, Beloit, New Waterford, Lisbon, Winona, Austintown, Mineral Ridge and Dillonvale.

Boy and Girl Scouts, 4-H Clubs, the Goshen Union Band, the Fairmount Children's Home Band and a marching unit from North Georgetown paraded.

The Gladdettes of Salem received a prize for their participation, and the Butler Jolly Workers 4-H club also received a prize for its float.

Mineral Ridge received a prize for the best equipped truck; the Dillonvale Department, for traveling the farthest to attend; the Winona department for the oldest truck; and the American Legion from Sebring for the best marching unit.

Most Severe Storm In Years Hits Chicago

One Person Killed, Many Are Injured; Damage Is Heavy

CHICAGO (AP)—Torrential rains, violent winds and lightning tore into Chicago and suburbs Friday night, flooding thousands of homes, blocking roads and ripping down power lines and trees.

Some residents of at least one suburb were forced to evacuate their homes as the storm, described as one of the worst in recent years, dumped more than five inches of rain in some areas within an eight-hour period.

At least one death was reported when a South Side man was electrocuted as he pumped out his flooded basement.

More Than 30 Injured

More than 30 persons were injured, none seriously, when gusty winds knocked down a tent theater on the Southwest Side during an evening performance. About 250 persons were watching a play when the canvas roof and supports came crashing down.

Two bridge-tenders working in a railroad bridge control shack were slightly injured when the swollen Chicago River tore loose a coal barge from its moorings and smashed it into the middle of the bridge.

The Cortland St. bridge was knocked into the river. A spokesman for the Milwaukee Railroad estimated damage at $50,000 to $75,000.

Just Short of Record

The downpour was only .08 of an inch short of the all-time Chicago rainfall record for a 24-hour period set in 1885. By 1 a. m. today 6.11 inches of rain had fallen during the previous 24-hour period.

Police and fire stations received dozens of calls reporting minor explosions as rising waters covered basement heating equipment. Lightning struck several homes in northwest and southwest suburbs.

The battering winds and rain played havoc with transportation and communication. Hundreds of cars stalled in deep water.

Two of the city's main transportation arteries—the Outer and Lake Shore Drives and the Congress Street Expressway—were closed for a time when as much as four feet of water piled up in spots.

Traffic was tied up for miles at the height of the storm. Many motorists were stranded in flooded underpasses and whole sections of the city were cut off as water swirled across streets and roads.

Patrolman Ritchie Quits Police Force

Patrolman William G. Ritchie of 339 W. Fifth St. resigned from the Salem Police force Thursday, it was announced today by Chief George T. Earley.

Ritchie gave no reason for his resignation but indicated he planned to seek other type of work, the chief said. He has been working parttime on another job.

Ritchie, who joined the force Sept. 1, 1954, after City Council authorized an increase in the department, has been on night duty ever since his appointment.

Appointment of a successor will come from a civil service eligibility list or following a new examination, Chief Earley indicated.

West Local Financial Woes Cited In Report

West Local School District, whose voters approved an eight-mill operating levy last Tuesday, is covered in an audit report released today by State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

Financial difficulties of the district, which includes East Rochester School, were explored by the examiner who made the audit.

Due to the operating levy being less than ten mills, the examiner noted, West district received from the state foundation program the minimum of $1925 times the number of certificated employees, less tuition paid to other districts.

Because of this, the report continues, the district was forced to operate with "about $25,000 less revenue."

A proposed operating levy was defeated in the November 1956 election.

Judge Studying Strike Movies

Films May Be Used In Clinton Trial

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—U.S. district Judge Robert L. Taylor was studying three newsreel films today, preparatory to deciding whether the government may use them in the trial of the "Clinton 15" and John Kasper, fiery New Jersey segregationist.

Not all of what the films contain has been disclosed. But it appeared that defense attorneys were fighting hard to keep the all-white jury from seeing them. By agreement, they said, lawyers on both sides declined to discuss this point.

Taylor saw the newsreels in his chambers after Friday's session of the trial—the last until Monday—ended. Attorneys were closeted with him more than an hour.

When they came out, they said only that the judge would rule on the admissibility of the pictures "at a subsequent date."

Riots flared in Clinton, a pleasant little town near Knoxville, when Negro students were admitted to the high school last autumn. National guardsmen, tanks, and state police were called to restore order.

Whether the newsreels show scenes of this is not known. Some of the pictures were made when Kasper was tried and convicted of contempt of court.

County Scouts Join In Jamboree Program

By AARON NEEDHAM and DENNIS DEAN of Salem Examiner Post No. 3

Columbiana County Boy Scouts went thoroughly enjoying the National Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., today after participating in opening ceremonies yesterday at the amphitheater arena.

The 65 county scouts, organized as Troop 24 and 18 for the Jamboree, heard Vice President Richard Nixon and took part in the flag-raising ceremonies.

The county unit, whose two buses did not leave Camp McKinley near Lisbon until 2:30 Thursday morning, arrived at Valley Forge that evening after a stop-over at Gettysburg.

When the scouts and explorers boarded the bus all noses were counted except one. The McKinley homestead at Camp McKinley was unlocked and a tiny scout was found asleep back in the corner of a room. He was led into one of the buses, still half-awake, and the trip was begun.

Set Up Camp Site

Setting up camp and clean-up was first on the agenda at Valley Forge.

Scoutmaster William Rayburn assembled the troop, with the exception of Patrol Leader Larry Muntz, and led them to the health lodge for physical checkups. Only Fred Hoaglin of East Palestine was found needing attention. He had developed a sore throat.

Gateway Is Erected

After mail had been distributed and important things concerning the Jamboree and activities in the coming week, the gate-way to the Columbiana Council campsite was erected on the most part by the members of Troop 18.

The work was interrupted by lunch but continued afterwards un-

FBI Arrests Girl Here In Bonds Theft

A 19-year-old California bank clerk, arrested in Salem Thursday for violation of the Federal Reserve Act, has been ordered held for a federal grand jury under $2,500 bond by U.S. Deputy Commissioner William G. Dornan at Youngstown.

Norma Jean Phillips of Huntington Park, Calif., was arraigned on a charge of stealing three savings bonds valued at $1,200 July 3 from the Bank of America branch at Huntington Park.

Miss Phillips was arrested Thursday by FBI agents at the home of a friend in Salem. The federal agents acted on a tip. She is in jail in Cleveland.

A Salem teenager was arrested yesterday for reckless operation, no driver's license and leaving the scene of an accident after the car he was driving struck a light pole at the intersection of N. Lincoln Ave. and E. 10th St. at 8:08 a. m. Friday, police reported.

Teamster Boss Calls Action 'Ridiculous'

Pair Charged With Selling Three Union Cars, Keeping Money

SEATTLE (AP)—The King County Grand Jury Friday indicted Teamster President Dave Beck and his son, Dave Beck Jr., on charges of grand larceny of three union owned automobiles.

The rotund president of the nation's biggest union quickly surrendered for routine booking, mugging and fingerprinting. Then he posted $3,000 bond and called a press conference to denounce the action as "simply ridiculous as well as a complete surprise."

Dave Junior went through the ritual, too, but didn't attend the conference at which his dad said he spoke for both.

Leave On National Tour

Today, after saying there wasn't "a chance in a million" he would be convicted, Beck left on a tour of the nation which will take him to a half dozen union meetings around the country.

The elder Beck, the jurors charged, kept for his own use $1,900 received for a union-owned Cadillac. Junior, the jurors declared in two separate indictments, kept $4,650 from the sale of two other Teamster Cadillacs.

"It isn't so," said the father indignantly in a press conference called in his plush offices in a new Western Conference of Teamsters office building, not "the wildest stretch of the imagination."

Certainly, he said, the money from the sale of the three automobiles had found its way into his own bank account or safe where he keeps "large amounts."

Gore Works On Substitute Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) said today he is consulting with Republican and Democratic senators in an effort to devise a substitute for the administration's civil rights bill.

Meanwhile, the Senate was called into an early Saturday session for a sixth day of debate on the hotly-disputed legislation.

Supporters of the House-passed measure cleared a first hurdle late Friday, however, when no objection was raised to voting Tuesday on a motion to bring the bill up for action in the Senate.

The unanimous consent agreement on the voting date was worked out by Senate GOP Leader Knowland (Calif.), Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.), and Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), quarterback of the Southern foes of the bill.

The agreement does not foreclose the possibility of a filibuster against the bill. Southerners still can try to talk it to death later.

While the Senate appeared certain to adopt Knowland's motion, Gore said in an interview that "I don't believe there are 10 senators left who want the bill as it stands."

Unlike most Southern senators, who have expressed opposition to any kind of civil rights bill, Gore said he favored a compromise measure guaranteeing voting rights and creating a commission to study civil rights problems.

The administration measure, passed by the House last month, would give the attorney general authority to obtain federal court injunctions to prevent violations or threatened violations of voting and other civil rights. Violators of injunctions could be cited for contempt of court, without a jury trial.

Bible Words for Today

MATTHEW 11:28-30. — "Come to me, all who labor and are heavy-laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn from me; for I am gentle and lowly in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light." (RSV)

The other day I noticed two strange objects on top of the garbage cans by the alley door of the Fellowship Center. They were horse collars—at least that's what they appeared to be to my "city eye." Evidently some one had cleaned his basement of no longer needed pieces of equipment.

They were a reminder, however, of a team of horses and the power they exert. Even our high-powered motor cars have their power gauged by "horse-power."

These simple collars also reminded me of the words of Jesus, which are quoted above. He does not promise that we will have no burdens, but with Him as yokefellow, they will be light. Learn to walk with Him and you will have strength for all things.

There's Power In Relaxation

Some time ago, I visited one of our naval air training schools. "A most important lesson we have to teach our pilots," the officer in charge told me, "is how to live with relaxed power. In this business of combat flying, a pilot can never know when he may have to meet a crisis, and he must be relaxed and ready at all times."

Then he gave me an example. Admiral Duncan once commanded that great aircraft carrier, the Essex. One day he was navigating the vessel out to sea from the base at Pearl Harbor, and it was carrying the maximum possible quota of aviation gasoline. Suddenly a freighter broke loose from its mooring and bore down menacingly upon the Essex.

On the bridge, the Admiral was giving the commands necessary to avoid a collision when an aide ran to him and excitedly announced, "Sir, there is a fire on the hangar deck!"

MY GUIDE EXPLAINED that a fire on the hangar deck of a carrier is extremely dangerous because of the proximity of the gas tanks. Then the disturbed and worried aide asked the Admiral, "What shall we do? The fire is getting dangerously near the tanks—what shall we do?"

The Admiral didn't even turn his eyes from the approaching freighter. "What shall you do?" he said simply. "Why, go back and put out the fire!"

The aide, now perceptibly calmed down, responded meekly. "Yes, sir," and went and did as he had been told. His Admiral, a seasoned leader of men, was able to apply relaxed power in a crisis.

How may you develop this relaxed power? Simply by practicing it—by the practice of taking relaxed attitudes in all situations. When something of a crisis nature arises, instead of stiffening up, practice relaxing muscle tensions, hold quiet thoughts, verbalize quiet words, be deliberate in action.

There is indeed power in relaxation and you can acquire it by using some such method as that which is described above. It has been my experience that the people who really get things done in the world have learned how to find and use this relaxed power.

Civil Rights Are Political

When southern senators take a deep breath and tee off another filibuster to stop a civil rights bill, they are defending what they believe to be a proper way of life.

They may be wrong about its propriety, but their sincerity cannot be questioned. They do not believe the southern way of life ever can be reconciled with federal action to protect the voting rights of Negroes. Although there are local pique-politicos whose only stock in trade is racial intolerance, all but a few of the southern senators have reached their conclusions on a broader base than petty prejudice.

But in net effect, civil rights are political, even in the U. S. Senate. The reason is the main thing to be aware of as another filibuster gets underway.

This issue is splitting the Democratic party into irreconcilable factions. The Republican party is driving it between southern and northern Democrats like a wedge into a log.

The Democratic party without sure seats in Congress from the Solid South cannot control Congress. It cannot hope to capture the presidency while millions of northern Negroes are alienated by its reactionary anti-Negro position on civil rights.

If it splits off the Deep South to curry popular favor in the North, the Democratic party will sacrifice strength in Congress. Ultimately, it might weaken itself by forcing the development of a two-party system in states where it now holds a monopoly.

If it toadies to the violent feelings of Ku Kluxers and white supremacists and the less violent but more forceful views of its statesmen, on the other hand, it will speed up the leave-taking of northern voters who are out of patience with the party's split personality on the civil rights problem.

There is only one correct answer to the problem. It is in the 14th and 15th amendments to the Constitution.

But the Democratic party says there are two answers — the constitutional one in the North and an unconstitutional answer in the Deep South.

This is why civil rights are political. A political party's power will totter with every gust of windy oratory in the Senate filibuster.

All Set To Listen

When Sen. Byrd and his committee are through looking at government financing in search of an answer to riddles that puzzle them, another Democrat, Sen. Kefauver, will lead an inquiry into private pricing.

Since the Kefauver investigators have announced in advance that they expect to find dirty work at the crossroads, the public is all set to listen for a full bill of particulars.

It is going to listen closely for evidence that the investigators are aware of large new element in private pricing—the labor-union practice of demanding what unionists think the traffic can bear and leaving the rest to the traffic. This may be no more irregular in its effect on what the consumer is obliged to pay than the established right of enterprise to charge what the traffic will bear. But it amounts to divided responsibility in pricing practices. Management and labor are both responsible.

The price of labor always has been a prime factor in pricing. But the price of labor today is not left to chance. It is administered according to private decisions that are as powerful in their impact on prices than anything forbidden by federal antitrust laws.

If the Kefauver investigators choose to do so, they can define this new element clearly, thereby putting the price of labor into its proper setting relative to the price of goods and services.

Our Finest Hour, Too

Even if you do not know a racket from a flyswatter, you know by this time that a colored girl named Althea Gibson from the Harlem district of New York City has reached the high echelons of amateur tennis.

Miss Gibson recently won the singletist it leat Wimbledon, which is the equivalent in tennis of winning the Big Ten title in football and being invited to the Rose Bowl. She was presented to the Queen of England and given a ticker-tape ride down Broadway to City Hall when she returned to New York.

She said something there about the homecoming ceremony that lends itself to something many Americans feel like saying: "This is my finest hour."

This is our finest hour, too — not this one triumph of a colored person but the fact colored people in the United States can triumph in anything they want to try. The Manhattan borough president who rode with Miss Gibson was Hulan Jack, a Negro. There are Negro diplomats, businessmen, teachers, athletes, artists, musicians, preachers, scientists and scholars.

When history has lengthened perspective far enough to make a century seem no bigger than an hour, this will have one of the great things accomplished in the United States — to raise a suppressed minority from slavery to a position where its members contribute their talents in all fields — in less than one century.

Disarmament Fakery

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Khrushchev Tips Red Hand On Bomb Test Stand

A telltale paragraph in an impromptu speech just made by boss Khrushchev exposes the entire game of fakery that the Communists have been playing at the disarmament table in London.

It's the banning of all nuclear bombs—both their testing and their use in war—which the Soviet Union really wants. Why? Because this would give the Soviet and Red China regimes, with their enormous manpower and the use of conventional weapons, a complete military mastery of the world. The West would, in effect, be disarmed.

Khrushchev showed his hand when he denounced President Eisenhower for saying at a recent press conference that a "clean" bomb, which would limit destruction to the military target and eliminate "fallout," was being perfected for the American government by its scientists. Speaking off-the-cuff during his tour of Czechoslovakia, Khrushchev said:

"Eisenhower is a man of principle and integrity but look what stupidities he says when he speaks of a clean hydrogen bomb. How can there be clean bombs for dirty things? Bombs mean wholesale annihilation of children and women."

FOR SEVERAL YEARS now the Communists, through their press and with the cooperation of some naive persons in the scientific world, have agitated against the testing of nuclear weapons.

The principal impetus to the crusade was given by a worldwide discussion of radioactive "fall-out" and an exaggerated emphasis on possible damage to civilians everywhere.

Because of this terror campaign, politicians in Britain and America urged a ban on all nuclear testing. Some have wanted it done by the West alone, and some have insisted that it be agreed to by the Communists simultaneously with the Western countries.

But coincident with it all there has been a persistent drive by the Communists to stir up worldwide feeling against any use of nuclear bombs in war.

Most people didn't recognize the shrewdness of this military strategy but now, with the probability that "fallout" will be eliminated in what is known as a "clean" bomb, the bottom drops out of the Soviet argument about the evil effects of "fallout" whether in tests or in the use of nuclear bombs in wartime.

A "CLEAN" BOMB means that the military installation or factory making strategic weapons for the enemy would be the target and the people in the surrounding area would not be harmed by "fallout." This is exactly what used to happen in war — a constant attempt to confine bombing to military areas.

The Soviet government, of course, would be given the secret of the "clean" bomb by the West, so that there would be no unfair advantage but only if there was an agreement in advance to permit outside inspection so that the West would know if the Russians were continuing to produce what are known as "dirty" bombs.

Thus far, however, the Soviet envoys to the London Disarmament Conference have stood their ground — they will not even agree to a ban on all testing of bombs by both sides because the West insists that production of bombs must also be stopped and a fool-proof method set up to ascertain whether the agreement is being fulfilled.

SO IT ALL comes down to this: The Communists want a mutual ban on testing but don't want to agree to stop production of nuclear bombs. The West is willing to stop the tests and also further production of bombs, if agreed to by both sides.

The Soviet reason for wanting an agreement to ban tests and the use of bombs in war is that they will continue to manufacture never intend to honor their pledges but know the West will.

This gives the Soviets a military advantage on two counts — they nuclear bombs and they will maintain large armies to overrun Europe or to intimidate the peoples of the Western countries and thus make easier the infiltration of parliamentary governments by Communists.

BACK IN THE MINDS of the Soviet military strategists also is the knowledge that it is not altogether certain that political governments in Western Europe, when the chips are down, would allow their territory to be used by American forces as bases for the launching of H-bombs, knowing that this would invite retaliation.

Meanwhile, conventional armies, navies and air forces are being curtailed in the West for economic reasons while the Communists are protecting themselves not only with nuclear weapons but with non-nuclear weapons and large armies as well.

"One Thing I Don't Have -- a Panic Push Button"

Dixie Oratorical Marathon

By MARTIN S. HAYDEN

Only the "greatest deliberative body on earth" could witness the kind of oratorical marathon with which Dixie senators would kill or cripple President Eisenhower's "right-to-vote" law for southern Negroes.

By the show's end there will be bases for new evaluation of the U. S. Senate, of its peculiar filibuster tradition and of the toughness of Vice President Nixon whose chair rulings could make or break the southern effort.

The word "filibuster" derives from the Dutch term for a freebooter, or buccaneer. Peculiarly American is its application to a legislator who obstructs action by continuous talk, and parliamentary maneuver.

OTHER PRINCIPAL democratic legislatures long ago decided there had to be some limit to talk. In 1911 the U. S. House of Representatives adopted the rule of the "previous question," a method by which a majority can end all debate by ordering an immediate vote.

In 1882, after Irish nationalists had stalled the British House of Commons to win home rule for Ireland, Prime Minister Gladstone got adoption of the same rule in the mother of parliaments.

Until 1917 the Senate had no debate limitation. That year a band of "liberals," dubbed by President Wilson "the twelve wilful men," killed his request for authority to arm U. S. merchantmen against German submarines by filibustering from Feb. 27 until Congress had to adjourn March 4.

That led to the first talk limit, a Senate rule providing that two-thirds of the senators present and voting could order "cloture" and end debate on any subject.

IN THE NEXT 20 years cloture was used only four times: Against a Versailles Treaty filibuster in 1919, a World Court talkathon in 1926, and, in 1927, to stop filibuster on a banking bill and a Prohibition enforcement change.

In 1948 a proposed federal outlawing of state poll taxes produced a new Dixie gimmick: A filibuster against a motion to "take up" a bill. As Senate president pro tempore, Sen. Vandenberg ruled "with regret" that the 1917 cloture device could be applied only against a "pending measure" and that southerners were right in contending they could "talk forever" to keep the Senate from considering an objectionable bill.

A year later Sen. Hayden (D-Ariz.), and the late Sen. Wherry (R-Neb.), moved to change rules and apply cloture to "any matter."

The motion to change the rules started a new filibuster; when a cloture petition was filed to stop it, Vice President Barkley reversed the Vandenberg rule but was in turn overruled by the whole Senate by a 46-41 vote.

March 17, 1949 saw the 18-day rules filibuster ended by the "Wherry compromise": A new rule applying cloture to "any matter" but specifying that it must be backed — not just by two-thirds of those present and voting — but by a constitutional two-thirds of the whole Senate, or 64 members.

THAT IS THE RULE under which Nixon is presiding over the present show. Theoretically, and unless cloture is voted, the South can filibuster the motion to "take up" the right-to-vote law; then, if it is taken up, they can filibuster against the bill and every amendment offered thereto.

Nixon's toughness will get its test in the rigidity with which he enforces the rules and knock-down Dixie technical maneuvers.

The rule says, for instance, that each senator may speak twice in each legislative day on the "same subject." Hence the requirement that to "break" a filibuster the Senate stay in continuous 24-hour session and maintain the fiction that the legislative day never ends.

Feasible as a means of stopping filibuster on the motion to "take up," which cannot be amended, the process becomes more difficult when the bill is finally made the pending Senate business.

Then it can be amended, and each amendment can be amended, with each such maneuver constituting a new "subject" on which every senator is entitled to speak twice and as long as he wishes.

The rules say a senator must stand when he speaks; he cannot sit or lean on the edge of a desk. In filibusters a tough presiding officer enforces that to weary the marathoners.

MARATHON TALKERS like to relax and temporarily leave the chamber during quorum calls of the Senate.

The rules say that, once there has been a quorum call and a majority of the senators have answered, there cannot be another, unless the Senate has transacted some piece of "business." However, almost anything constitutes "business."

A southerner can ask unanimous consent to insert a document in the record. If no one objects, that constitutes a piece of "business" and he can ask for a new quorum call.

If there is an objection to the insertion, a fellow southerner can raise a point of order and then appeal from the ruling of the chair. Successfully achieved, that point of order constitutes "business" and justifies more delay for still another quorum call.

On the surface it would appear that a dozen to 18 deep-South filibusters literally could stall action forever.

Confronted by a determined opposition and a tough presiding officer, however, the talkers can ultimately reach a point of diminished filibuster return when aroused public opinion may force action by the civil rights "neutrals" whose cloture petition signatures could end the debate.

15-Cent Heap

By TRUMAN TWILL

A lot of us crazy, mixed-up oldsters are indebted to Associated Press columnist Hal Boyle for finding a living specimen of a kind of a human being that haunts us whenever we brood about the stress and strain of pursuing the More Abundant Life.

Boyle's prototype lives in the beautiful Great Smoky Mountains. He is 71, equipped for life with a good education and sparked for living by a great curiosity about his surroundings and a deep satisfaction in living on his own terms.

This gentleman has successfully turned his back on the materialistic version of the More Abundant Life and is devoted to an off-beat version that calls for no income. He gets by on as little as 15 cents a day, which leaves him free to wear his own collar, or no collar at all.

For 20 years of his life, he worked at various jobs but for many years has been answerable to no one because he had no monetary needs of consequence. He has no complaint about income taxes because he seeks no income. Inflation does not give him the willies because the values he works with are eternally stabilized — air to breathe, animals to observe and understand, beauty to appreciate and his own pursuit of knowledge.

He has — to quote him — "reduced life to its lowest common denominator." He holds no brief for what he is doing as a panacea. He admits it would not fit everybody. But it fits him fine.

This is what haunts us crazy, mixed-up oldsters whenever we take a breather from the pursuit of happiness. Are we pursuing it on our own terms, or on terms that we accepted without realizing what they were going to lead to in the long run — a steephease we cannot win and cannot stop.

It takes all kinds of people to make a world. The rub comes when some of the kinds discover they have been going against their grain because they imitated somebody else.

There may be people living in the Great Smoky Mountains who would be happier in Wall Street or on Madison Avenue making a million, and there may be stock brokers and pressure guys who would be happier cracking nuts and watching sunsets in the Smokies. But they do not know how to change sides in the pursuit of the More Abundant Life.

That is why Hal Boyle has performed a public service by telling how one man in the Smokies lives in his idea of paradise on as little as 15 cents a day, which leaves him free to live on his own terms. It is a good trick, and you can learn how to do it.

In some respects, it is a better trick than finishing in the money in the rat race of materialism.

That is what haunts us whenever there is time to think about it. The noncontentants are haunted, too. They keep seeing $5,000 cars and split-level hideouts with built-in luxuries.

Neither side can be sure. But for 15 cents a day . . . A fellow could do a heap of living if that was all he needed to stay alive.

Skyscraper Business

A cozily furnished "grandstand" for "sidewalk superintendents," the presence of Marilyn Monroe and plans for a continuous telecast of all building operations to kibitzers marked the start of work on a 47-story skyscraper in New York.

Skyscraper construction now enters the category of public amusement. We foresee a spreading influence of show business on building operations, with larger audience participation, and reviews by dramatic critics.

FOR YEARS wooden fences made the life of sidewalk superintendents a constant struggle. What went on during the excavating was held to be nobody's business.

Now the new Time-Life skyscraper builders are making it a "production number," with lavish amusement features, open to all.

A crane operator puts on a gala performance for "my public." The man in the bulldozer becomes a featured player. . . . A derrick operator goes all out for approval, looks for an encore and takes a bow.

EACH ONE REALIZES he is in show biz and that his act is being watched by thousands. The dynamite man and the pick-and-shovel crew "ham it up." Every construction worker becomes a Corse Payton or Barrymore.

As the trend spreads all over the country you may soon find critics reviewing all major construction operations, with the workers staying up to read their "notices." You may find something like this:

"Another hit production opened yesterday with excavations for the Humdinger Chemical Corporation's 52 story building.

"The premiere was dramatic, spellbinding and entertaining, with no expense spared and with every artist in the construction unions giving his best.

"There were a few awkward moments due to lack of full dress rehearsals, but no one could doubt that this had the elements of a majestic performance meeting the best traditions of the cement, concrete and steel industries.

"POWER AND PROGRESS are its key motifs. Mr. Steve ('Red' McGinty), operator of steam shovel No. 8, gave a brilliant performance which may carry him far.

"It was all the more noteworthy when it was realized that McGinty, up to his big city debut, performed only in rural ranch-house projects. "Special praise must go also to Tony ('Speedy') Esposito for a ballet of dump-trucks, this being the first time 'Swan Lake' was attempted with 15-ton vehicles.

"THE EXCAVATING was marred by the sudden illness of the Scrupolis Brothers, whose cement-mixing act is widely known, but the substitution of Pasquale Brozzo was quite adequate.

"Mr. Brozzo came direct from an engagement building a superdoooper Miami Beach hotel and is the first cement mixer to use music with his act."

JUDY TYLER, eye-filling star of "Pipe Dream" who was killed in an auto accident the other day, co-starred in that play with Bill Johnson, who died suddenly within a year. . . . They both seemed destined for years of success in the theater.

Ben Duffy, one of America's best known advertising men, close to death for many months, has staged a miraculous recovery and is circulating with much of his famous "pep."

The picture of Gen. Robert E. Lee is on the new 30-cent special delivery stamp. . . . Is this an attempt to blame the higher postal rates on the South?

Sign of the times: "Mister, could you spare a half dollar? I wanna mail a letter."

IT IS BEING RECOGNIZED that the skipper who brought the Mayflower II over, Capt. Alan Villiers, is an extra colorful personality of whom a lot will be seen on TV and maybe in the movies.

Looking Backward

Lima Jr., of Raynham, Mass., staggers out of the Cape Cod surf at Provincetown, Mass., with a 60-pound striped bass almost larger than himself. Many caught the whopper with an atom plug. It is the largest striped reported caught surf casting this season and one of only three or four this size caught from shore in recent years in New England.

LATE SUMMER POTATOES will be harvested from 7,600 acres, 6 per cent above last year with a production of 1,026,000 hundred-weight. Fall potato acreage is estimated at 11,500 acres, down 8 per cent from 1956. Production estimates for the fall potatoes will not be made until August.

Apple production estimated at 2,700,000 bushels compared with 2,100,000 bushels last year.

Peach production will total 900,000 bushels, 100,000 bushels below the amount harvested last year.

Pears are estimated at 45,000 bushels, the same as last year.

Grape production is estimated at 12,500 tons compared with 13,800 tons last year.

Sour cherry production is estimated at 1700 tons while sweet cherries are estimated at 250 tons.

Milk production during June of 565 million pounds, is four per cent less than May but the same as one year ago.

Eggs laid during June totaled 185 million, 7 per cent less than the June 1956 production and 12 per cent less than the average for June.

OHIO FARMERS are planning to harvest about two per cent less total acreage of all crops than last year.

Two factors have been largely responsible for this decline, first of all the Acreage Reserve Program and secondly, not planting some fields originally intended to be planted, because of unfavorable weather. In spite of many delays due to wet weather, progress of small grain harvest is near usual for the state as a whole.

About 10 per cent of the wheat had been harvested as of July 5. Height of corn as of that date averaged 24 inches, about the same as last year. Variability in height from field to field is considerable in some areas.

Planting of soybeans was late but as of July 5 bean plants were averaging 9 inches in height. Pastures have remained in excellent condition throughout June in most areas of the state due to the favorable moisture situation.

Social Affairs

Catholic Daughters Complete Festival, Card Party Plans

The regular meeting of the Catholic Daughters of America was held Thursday at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Ori F. Sanor Celebrates 90th Birthday

Ori F. Sanor of 418 W. State St. celebrated his 90th birthday Tuesday.

Born on a farm west of New Gardin, he is the last of his immediate family. He had seven brothers.

Mr. Sanor, who has lived in Salem for the past 65 years, retired from the Deming Co. eight years ago after 50 years of service with the company.

In good health, he makes frequent trips uptown, mows his lawn and helps his wife, Elizabeth, in her vegetable and flower gardens. Mr. Sanor enjoys television and works a crossword puzzle each day.

He is a past noble grand of the Odd Fellows Lodge and a member of the Rebekah Home Lodge and the First Christian Church.

His daughter, Mrs. Venus Bower, and her son, Robert, make their home with the Sanors.

'Birthday Party' To Be Wednesday at Winona

The Older Youth Class of the Winona Methodist Church will present its third annual "birthday party" Wednesday at the Winona Playground.

Jay Althouse is ticket chairman. Children under school age will be admitted free.

Prizes will be given for the best decorated table. A "womanless wedding" will be a feature of the entertainment starting at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Proceeds will go to the Winona Methodist Church building fund. Last year the sum of $500 netted at the "birthday party" was given to the building fund by the class.

Harriett Watt Guild Plans Aug. 7 Picnic

Harriett Watt Guild met Wednesday evening with Mrs. Lawrence Clewell of Guilford Lake.

The group planned a picnic for the members and their families for Aug. 7 at the home of Mrs. Harry Ellis of the Damascus Road.

The ways and means committee discussed equipment for the new kitchen being installed in the Church of Our Saviour social rooms.

A fellowship hour followed the business session, and refreshments were served by Mrs. Clewell and her associate hostesses, Mrs. Hindman and Miss Charlotte Probert.

Jolly Time Club Plans Picnic Dinner July 24

Ten Jolly Time Club members welcomed a guest, Mrs. Lawrence Goddard at a meeting Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. George Zeigler of E. 3rd St.

The group planned a picnic dinner for July 24 at the cottage of Mrs. Arthur Shinn at Berlin Dam.

Buns, butter and coffee will be furnished.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her mother, Mrs. Shinn, and Mrs. Frank Rowe.

The next meeting will be Aug. 8 at the home of Mrs. Arthur Johnson of N. Lincoln Ave.

Garden Club Of Damascus Has Luncheon

The Damascus Garden Club observed its fourth anniversary Thursday with a luncheon held at the Alliance Women's Club.

The meeting was opened with President Mrs. Bernard Ostrosky thanking the committees and all who helped make the recent flower show a success.

Mrs. Frank Delzell, conservation chairman, brought the club's attention to the need for individuals to write to senators asking them to support the bill which would prohibit advertising signs being placed within 1,000 feet of the highway. Each member was requested to do this.

An interesting foliage identification test was presented by Mrs. Ellis Steer and Mrs. Ostrosky. Mrs. Harold Brown received a prize.

An appropriate poem for the club's fourth anniversary, written by Mrs. Raymond Dankief, was read by the secretary, Mrs. Myron West.

The Salem Garden Club will be guests at the next meeting, Aug. 8, in the basement of the Damascus Methodist Church.

Amvet Women Plan Picnic, Swim Party

The Amvets Auxiliary met Tuesday evening at the Post Home and planned a picnic and swimming party for July 23 at Centennial Park.

In case of rain, the picnic supper will be held at the Post Home. Members are asked to bring tax stamps to the picnic meeting. The committee includes Mrs. Alton Fields, chairman, Mrs. Robert Entringer and Mrs. C. E. Eppinger.

The auxiliary voted to send a contribution to the national Amvets Auxiliary to help maintain the carillon installed at Arlington, Va., by that auxiliary several years ago.

Mrs. Morey Luce and Mrs. Clair Royle were appointed to take charge of the refreshment booth at the Amvet dance July 27 at the Saxon Country Club. Ross Hallomay and his orchestra from Akron will play for the dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Fields, Mrs. Torch Nedelka and Mrs. Melvin Wukotich attended a state executive meeting Sunday in Columbus.

Mrs. William Camp and Mrs. George Bergman won the prizes in Monte Carlo whist.

The next regular meeting will be Aug. 14 at the home of Mrs. Frank Hill of Southeast Blvd.

McMiivs Record Hop To Benefit YW, Center

The McMiivs will sponsor a record hop Aug. 24 featuring Wes Hopkins, Cleveland disc jockey.

Proceeds will go to the Youth Center and the YWCA.

New members recently accepted into the club are Linda Griffith, Linda Whipkey, Carolyn Gordon and Halle Goard. The members have made arrangements to have club photographs taken in November.

Town, Country Club Meets At Aldridges

Mrs. Alta Neville was a guest at a meeting of the Town and Country Club Thursday at the home of Mrs. Clyde Aldridge of the Salem-Lisbon Road.

Prizes in pirate bingo went to Mrs. Edwin Copeland, Mrs. Ellen Ruhl, Mrs. Clarence McMillan and Mrs. William Mullen.

The next meeting will be Aug. 8 at the home of Mrs. Clifford Ward of the Signal - Elkton Road.

SORORITY PLANS PICNIC

Xi Gamma Sorority will hold a picnic Thursday at 6 p.m. at pavilion 4 in Centennial Park.

Members are reminded to bring their own table service. Beverages will be furnished.

Thomas Jefferson was first a Republican, then Democrat.

WANT AD

Talks Business To Everybody

... and Is Heard

If it's a salesman you want, you'll look far before you'll find a better one than a News Want Ad.

Small as it is, it packs a mighty wallop, and gets in places where a two-legged salesman can't get the tip of his toe. There are no barriers a Want Ad can't hurdle. It encounters no sales resistance because it's paid for by the advertiser and sought by the reader who buys The News to know what's for sale and who has it for sale. It's Wanted!

A News Want Ad is a tireless worker for anyone willing to hire its services.

It is a guide to business opportunities, often a promoter of an enterprise. It sells real estate, unused commodities and has a voice in thousands of transactions like no other medium of advertising.

It talks business to everybody, and is heard. For the price you pay, a News Want Ad is a force in selling you cannot afford to ignore. Better than 82,000 individual ads have been published in The News during the past twelve months and 82,000 of anything is worth consideration.

So, for things you want to buy, sell or rent — or for any other need — read and use News Want Ads.

Portland, Ore., Pastor To Speak

145th Friends Meeting At Damascus Set Aug. 20-25

The 145th annual conference of the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends will be Aug. 20-25 in Damascus.

Principal speaker for both the evangelistic services in the evenings and the expository hour at 11 each morning Wednesday through Saturday will be Rev. Gerald Dillon of Portland, Ore.

Rev. Dillon, pastor of the First Friends Church of Portland, is also president of the newly-organized Evangelical Friends Movement. Rev. Charles Matti of Damascus, who has been in the mission fields in China and Formosa for 35 years, will speak at the annual missionary service Aug. 24 afternoon during the conference.

An inspirational program also is being planned for the youth at the Yearly Meeting under the direction of the Christian Endeavor Union.

350 Ministers, Delegates

Attending the six-day session will be more than 350 ministers, missionaries from foreign lands and delegates and lay members.

The visitors will be guests in the homes of church members in Damascus, Salem and vicinity.

The basement of the Damascus Friends Church will be the dining hall where meals will be served.

One of the oldest religious groups in the United States, the Ohio Yearly Meeting has jurisdiction over 89 Quaker churches in Ohio, New York, Rhode Island, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Iowa and Virginia, besides mission stations in Formosa and India. The membership totals 7,000.

Largest in the Yearly Meeting are Salem First Friends Church with a membership of 514; Alliance, 484 and Damascus, 358.

Yearly Meeting officers are: Presiding clerk, the Rev. Ora Lovell of Cleveland; and announcing clerk, the Rev. Sherman Brantingham of Portsmouth, Va.

Reading clerk, the Rev. Ralph Smallwood of Martinsville, Va.; recording clerk, the Rev. Kenneth Headland of Boston Heights; directory clerk, the Rev. Roger Wood of Ypsilanti, Mich.; and general superintendent, Dr. Walter R. Williams of Damascus.

car through a crowd of reporters, blowing his horn violently and driving off at high speed after the selection became known.

The old Aga, 79, died Thursday in his Swiss villa. He had reigned for 71 years, since he was 8.

In his will he said he was picking Karim as his successor because he believed a young man brought up during the atomic age should take over the post.

The new Aga, an A student at Harvard, wants to return this fall for the completion of his senior year. As a sophomore, his roommate was John Fell Stevenson, son of Adlai E. Stevenson, the two-time Democratic candidate for president.

Six Young Drivers Have Permits Suspended

LISBON — Six motorists had their licenses suspended or were fined at hearings at the Court-house this week.

Larry S. Kessler, 16, of Salineville was fined $15 and had his license suspended for 15 days on a charge of reckless operation.

James T. Mullen, 17, of East Liverpool, was fined $5 for driving left of center line, and Freddy William Carlisle, 16, of Lisbon RD 2 had his license suspended for 20 days for a similar charge.

Mark Fenton, 17, of Salem had his license suspended for 20 days on a charge of speeding.

Thomas W. Beatty, 17, of New Galilee, Pa., was fined $5 for speeding.

Donald W. Hoopes, 16, of Beloit RD 2 was fined $15 and had his license suspended for 30 days for failing to stop for stop sign.

H-Bombs

officials and key workers will join week-long exercise on Monday. From 30-odd Washington agencies they will report to 80 emergency relocation centers in a half-dozen states.

There they will fashion an economy of simulated controls and rationing.

The Operation Alert planners, it became clear today, had handed the Civil Defense teams a king-size problem. The total of theoretically flattened cities, it appeared might approach 200.

New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, Dallas and virtually all other major centers of industry and population were hypothetical dunes of ruin. A number of Air Force bases—including that of the Continental Air Command at Colorado Springs—were "destroyed."

An attack by a 20-megaton H-bomb "destroyed" New York City. The official report, which reached this news center 10 hours after the supposed strike, said the weapon exploded over Governor's Island in New York Harbor, "covering the entire city of New York."

"Everything within a 5-mile radius was reported destroyed," the FCDA bulletin said. Twelve other targets in the state were hit.

Chicago and Gary, Ind., had special mock horror. Two 3,000-pound nerve gas bombs exploded over Lake Michigan, presumably spreading an odorless, colorless gas that kills in seconds.

Discovered in Roanoke, Va., was an unexploded "suitcase" bomb. Greensboro, N.C. was "wiped out" by a 20-kiloton missile launched from a submarine off the coast.

The vast atomic energy installations at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Los Alamos, went up in imaginary blast and flame. Grand Coulee Dam was presumed struck by the equivalent of a million tons of TNT. In the same make-believe manner, the Panama Canal was hit, as were points in Alaska and Puerto Rico.

CD Plan

clear signal because of the danger of radio active fallout.

Civilian Defense pamphlets point out that wherever a person might be caught, be it in school, home, at work or in the open that they follow these simple rules:

Drop to the floor or ground and crawl under a desk or into a ditch. Keep away from windows and bury your face in your arms. Wherever possible, turn on the radio and listen for CONELRAD instructions.

FLOYD CRAIG, a veteran local radio amateur, is in charge of all civilian defense radio communication here.

Wark said that an alert signal would be a steady blast of a siren for three to five minutes and that a take cover signal would be a wailing tone or series of short blasts of three minutes duration.

At the same time he added that CD monitor teams would go out and take readings on the seriousness of radio activity.

FAMILIES CAN HELP themselves in emergencies by staying tuned to the CONELRAD stations (640 and 1240 on the radio dial), kept at least seven days supply of food on hand and to practice fire prevention at all times.

Wark has been Salem's CD director for three years and was named to the county post in 1956.

He declared that Salem residents would be more fortunate than some others since if a bomb were dropped on Youngstown, the destruction in this direction wouldn't be as great because the highest point in Mahoning county is between Youngstown and Salem.

He said that most destruction by A-bombs is caused by air bursts and that ground and water blasts cause the most radioactivity.

ALL THE TIME THAT local CD personnel are assisting in emergencies, the local Red Cross, along with all Salem church groups and women's organizations, would be assisting also.

Miss Hazel Linn, Salem Red Cross executive secretary, explains that her first move in event of a war disaster, would be to muster all her staff assistants. This is a group of 20 people who would head various committees and groups set up for emergencies.

Miss Linn says the first thing done to injured people would be to get personal information from them as to their names, addresses, next of kin along with what physical injuries they might have.

She said identification tags would be issued so that Red Cross officials might keep persons with communicable diseases separated from others.

FIRST AID SHELTERS would be set up in both homes, churches, plants and anywhere facilities could be arranged. This would include emergency hospitals outside of town in granges and schools that would have a good supply of water.

The Junior Red Cross would assist in making beds for patients and would act as couriers, along with local Boy Scout troops.

Miss Linn pointed out the local Red Cross has many committees set up so, that in case of emergency, each would execute the duties to which they were assigned.

These committees would be shelter, equipment, food, medicine, medication and survey. The survey committee would provide facilities for transportation, ambulances, acetylene torches, inhalators, electricity and auxiliary fuel.

The Salem disaster area encompasses Washingtonville, Winona and Damascus.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE officials shudder at the thought of any future war and hope it never comes. However, lack of preparedness would be inexcusable, they point out, and that is why they are again taking part in the nationwide test alert.

On Sunday some 15,000 persons may be evacuated out of Youngstown and brought to Firestone Park at Columbiana. They'll travel down Route 164 from 2 to 3 p.m. for the exercise and the state patrol's advice is stay clear of the area.

Mansfield Proposes Dulles Pay Visit To East Europe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) proposed today that Secretary of State Dulles visit eastern Europe for a "first-hand exploration" of changes behind the Iron Curtain.

And Mansfield called on the administration to abandon what he said is its policy of "irresponsible fear" of Russia and shift to one of "positive action for peace."

The senator criticized Dulles for denying American newsmen permission to report "first hand" on developments inside Red China. At the same time, he said he had "every confidence" Dulles will "bring the China press coverage incident to a conclusion in the near future." However, he told reporters, that was simply "a devout hope."

The Montana lawmaker is assistant Democratic leader in the Senate, and a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

In a 49-page foreign policy review, prepared for Senate delivery, Mansfield said:

"We do not serve the cause of freedom or the interests of this country when we blockade these eastern European countries as a closed Communist corporation and merely seethe in the juice of our own moral indignation."

He said the United States and eastern European satellite people have more to gain "if we extend our commercial, our diplomatic and other contacts with each country of that region as the occasion presents itself, rather than by attempting to deal with these peoples as a mass, in the abstract, and from afar."

Burglaries Of 2 Area Businesses Probed

HANOVERTON — Hanoverton Township Constable Roy Painter is investigating the breaking and entering of the Bill Thomas Amoco service station on Rt. 30 just west of the Hanoverton city limits early Saturday morning.

Entrance was gained by breaking a pane of glass in the door and unlocking it. Stolen were six tires and batteries valued at $250 to $300.

Constable Painter is also investigating the breaking and entering of a concession stand at Manfull Lake Park near Kensington early Friday morning. The thieves bored a hole in the door, then used a wire to release the latch on the door. Loss was estimated at $55 in candy, meats, soft drinks and food.

AUTO CRASH FATAL

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Frank H. Holmes, 74, Canton, Ohio, was fatally injured and his wife, Tillie, 74, was injured critically Friday in a three-car collision on U. S. 10 at the intersection of state highway 83 north of Flint. State police said the Holmes car crashed into the rear of two other cars which had stopped for a traffic signal. Holmes died in a Flint hospital.

STOWAWAY REPORTED

CLEVELAND (AP)—After entering the United States 38 years ago as a stowaway, Bruno Carson, 56, is on his way back to his native Italy. He left Friday night after he changed his mind about appealing a deportation order issued by the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service. He was convicted on two counts of blackmail and served five years in the Ohio Penitentiary.

CONTRACT RULED INVALID

WASHINGTON (AP)—A contract between United Fuel Gas Co. of Charleston, W. Va., and two of its affiliates in the Columbia Gas System has been ruled discriminatory and invalid by Power Commission examiner Daniel J. Kelly.

The contract, with the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. of Columbus and Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa., provided lower storage rates for natural gas than United Fuel charged other customers during the contract period, May 11-Oct. 31, 1956.

til it was completely up-right. Due to the expected arrival of the camp inspectors all patrols were instructed to police their sites and clean kitchens thoroughly.

With Assistant Scoutmaster Bickel in the lead, the entire troop proceeded to make a tour of the Jamboree grounds, making several sops in order to allow those with cameras to take pictures of the various gateways and scenery.

Upon return from this trip, part of the troop undressed and showered in preparation for supper and the arena show.

After supper had been rushed through, the troop assembled in four column formations and marched to Outer Line Drive to meet with the remaining troops of Section 25.

This assembled, the entire area began to enter the arena and seat themselves near the front of the amphitheatre. The show started with a spectacular Indian dance followed in order by the presentation of boys dressed in costumes representing each region, in turn.

Next after an American flag had been brought out to the field for every troop present, the chief scout executive and the vice-president of the United States of America spoke before the assembled throng of Boy Scouts.

Mr. Nixon's speech was at times humorous but as a whole was serious and involved the principals of scouting, and what they will have to do with the future of America.

Following a thrilling spectacle of the story of Valley Forge acted out on the stage by two scouts and boys dressed in costumes of that period, a gigantic show of fireworks lasted a half-hour.

This part of the show was terminated by illuminated signs which stated, "Scouts Serve, the next contained a star over a cross, the next was an American flag, Good Night, and Have Fun."

In 28 minutes the some 50 thousand scouts marched from the arena back to their quarters and bunks.

Miss Linn stated that the local hospitals have consistently required more blood than has been donated at the bloodmobile units.

The next Bloodmobile visit to Salem will be Tuesday, July 29, and area residents are urged to register as donors for this visit. Blood will be drawn from 12-noon until 6 p.m. that day.

Albert Hanna, local blood program chairman, pointed out that if this community does not meet the requirements for local blood needs that there is danger that the Salem Red Cross Chapter will be dropped from the blood program. Such a move would again require patients who need blood to procure two individual donors for each unit of blood used in the local hospitals or pay $25 per unit used, he said.

35 Attend Swine Breeders Meeting

LISBON — Thirty-five swine breeders and feeders attended the annual twilight meeting of the Columbiana-Mahoning County Swine Breeders Assn. at the Canfield fairgrounds Friday evening.

C. E. Calhoun of the swine evaluation station at Ohio State University conducted judging and grading of three classes of hogs.

Darrel Bacon of New Springfield, president of the association, presided at last night's meeting. He furnished some of the hogs for grading, as did Clinton Heck of Alliance RD 5.

Burial will be in Hope Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Crapster was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., the daughter of William and Anna Van Stevenson Fiddell.

She married Bowie C. Crapster of Bedford, Pa. Dec. 31, 1930. He survives together with a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mamie Harris, both of Charlotte; two granddaughters, Mrs. Gordon Birkheimer of Damascus and Mrs. Edward Stefane of Salem; a grandson, Wayne Harris of Salem; and one great-grandson.

She lived most of her life in Salt and was a member of the First Baptist Church. She was a past president of the Daughters of Union Veterans and a member of the American Legion Auxiliary and the West Side Community Club.

Talks Scheduled On China Newsmen Ban

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—President Jenkins Lloyd Jones of the American Society of Newspaper Editors says an assistant secretary of state has opened the door to talks on the State Department's policy of barring U. S. newsmen from Red China.

Jones, the editor of the Tulsa, Oklahoma Tribune, said Friday night the official suggested a representative of the society and the State Department meet in Washington Thursday to "discuss in some way the admission of correspondents to Communist China."

The State Department did not say whether this meant a change in the administration's policy of closing the door to Red China for American newsmen.

tempt, charged with knowingly violating Taylor's injunction against interference with the desegregating of the high school in Clinton.

The trial has lasted a full week and the end is nowhere in sight. In the latest session, U.S. district Atty. John C. Crawford established one of the government's contentions, and called a parade of witnesses to fix the other. These were:

1. Testimony that Clyde Cook, free on $10,000 bail, read Taylor's hands-off injunction in the office of County Sheriff Glad Woodward. "He came down to the office and I gave him a copy of the injunction to read," the sheriff testified.

This, in legal language, is "direct notice," as differentiated from published and broadcast reports of the injunction. The government must prove that the defendants knowingly flouted Taylor's order.

2. The most important part of the government's charge is that the 15 "acted in concert" with Kasper before the Clinton violence. Working to show this, Crawford got into evidence a photostatic copy of the charter of the Tennessee White Citizens' Council, of which Kasper was a signer.

The defense lawyers battled hard to keep out the charter. Taylor ordered the jury to leave the room during their arguments. They said the charter was "highly inflammable."

reported 5,000 telephones out in the city limits and 2,000 more in the suburbs. Contact with Midway Airport—the world's busiest—was knocked out when five feet of water seeped into basements, soaking equipment. Planes still were grounded early today because there was no communication.

Public power companies said power lines were down in at least 30 places in the Chicago area. Flapping live wires and fallen trees and limbs contributed to the traffic jam.

As the heavy runoff threatened new floods engineers opened locks on the Chicago River and reversed its flow back into Lake Michigan. Engineers said it was the second time since 1905 that the river was reversed because of high water. The river in downtown Chicago had risen six feet by early today.

An estimated 24,000 cubic feet of water per second gushed through controlling locks along the river—more than 12 times the normal flow.

The heaviest flooding was reported in Dunhurst Heights, a subdivision of suburban Wheeling, northwest of the city. Firemen and the Coast Guard evacuated 128 persons from their homes to houses on higher ground.

Nine Feet of Water

Skokie residents, also in the northwest, reported as much as nine feet of water in some basements.

Estimates of damage could not be made immediately. Jim Monos, producer of the play at the Drury Lane tenthouse theater, estimated loss of the tent at about $10,000. Loretto Hospital, on the South Side estimated a damage from flooded basements at about $50,000.

The first part of the storm hit Chicago late Friday afternoon. It apparently originated in a squall line just west of the city and then edged westward. Earlier in the day, a tornado warning had been issued for the area but the warning later was called off.

Woodling's Home Run In 9th Gives Tribe Win Over Orioles

Colavito, Brown Spark Victory

Early Wynn Allows 5 Runs In 3rd Inning

CLEVELAND — A dramatic ninth inning homer by the veteran Gene Woodling lifted the Cleveland Indians back into the first division Friday night.

Woodling's homer over the right field fence, his fifth of the season, broke up a tie and gave the Tribe an 8-6 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

The Tribe's come-from-behind victory was also sparked by two-run homers by Rocky Colavito and Dick Brown, the latter's first in major leagues.

The Orioles, who climbed into fourth place Thursday after whipping the Indians, led the Tribe 6-0 at one point.

Early Wynn started for Cleveland and was the victim of a five-run uprising in the third. All the Oriole runs were unearned after Chico Carrasquel dropped a throw from Wynn which would have accounted for the first out of the inning.

With two out, the Orioles loaded the bases and Billy Goodman singled two runs home. Bob Nieman then pounded out a three-run homer.

Jim Busby's single brought home the final Baltimore tally in the fourth.

Colavito and Brown hit their home runs in the fourth inning off starter Connie Johnson during a four-run rally.

Ken Lehman relieved Johnson in the next inning and promptly loaded the bases. Ray Moore took over for Baltimore and allowed two runs to score before the inning was over.

Moore held the Indians scoreless until Woodling's game-winning blast in the ninth. Moore got the loss, his sixth against five wins.

Wynn, looking for his 12th victory of the year, gave way to Bud Daley in the fifth.

Daley pitched perfect ball in the four innings he worked. He struck out three and walked two while holding the Orioles hitless.

Mike Garcia pitched the ninth inning for Cleveland after Daley was lifted for a pinch hitter. Although he pitched only one inning, Garcia was credited with the victory, his fourth against five defeats.

Don Mossi will take the mound for the Tribe today. Billy O'Dell will handle the pitching chores for Baltimore.

Arcaro Sees New Stakes Champion In Bill Hartack

By FRANK ECK

AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor BELMONT, N.Y. — Bill Hartack is in Chicago now with prospects of winning some big stakes races and renewing his rivalry with Willie Shoemaker, the reinsman he replaced as leading jockey the last two years.

Hartack says he has no goals or ambitions, other than "to ride and win from day to day," but uppermost in his mind are those big stakes races.

HE STILL LIKES to hear about Pet Bull, the horse Trainer Tommy Kelly patched up to win the Washington Park Handicap on Labor Day, 1954, and give Tack his first $100,000 victory.

It was Tack aboard Iron Liege who "pinned a photo" on Shoes astride Gallant Man in the Kentucky Derby when Shoes misjudged the finish line.

Asked if he had ever hooked up with Hartack in tight finishes in big races before, Shoemaker replied:

"I can't think of any other but the Derby."

When the same question was put to Hartack, he of the trigger mind and photographic memory, replied:

"We must have had 5 or 6 photo finishes at Chicago two summers ago."

BOTH TACK AND SHOES admire each other as great riders and both rate 41-year-old Eddie Arcaro as the best.

After Hartack won his 22nd stakes race of the year in record time aboard Decathlon at Monmouth Park in New Jersey, Arcaro said:

"I think he'll break my stakes record this year. He's got a good head on it."

Hartack made it stakes 24 and 25 at Delaware Park on June 22.

Gonzales Agrees To Vie In Tournament

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. — Jack Kramer's feud-racked Tournament of Champions opened at the lush West Side Tennis Club today with professional king Pancho Gonzales an unwilling and unwelcome participant.

Gonzales, feuding with Kramer over money, capitulated Friday night after he was persuaded by his attorneys to hop a plane from his Los Angeles home. Kramer already had announced that negotiations had fallen through and that the tourney would go on without Pancho.

"I was all for standing fast," the still-angry Kramer bristled. "I told the others I didn't want him in the tournament, that he already had made us look bad enough."

"But I took a poll of the players, anyhow, and they were unanimous in voting to have him play. I polled everyone except Frank Sedgman. I couldn't find him."

Kramer said Gonzales told him that he was going to stay in Los Angeles and be a movie star, that he didn't need tennis.

"The entire argument was over five per cent, or about $20,000 over an 18-month period," said Kramer. "I was not going to budge from my offer. Nor have I bugged. Nor will I budge."

Low Hoad, of course, was to be the big attraction. The muscular young Australian signed only a week ago for a guaranteed $125,000 over a two-year span and is fresh from his second straight Wimbledon victory.

But Hoad's fat contract also distressed Gonzales. So for better or worse, Pancho is the center of attraction.

Here is the opening day's lineup:

Take today, July 13. They've played 79 games, stand 53-26, have won six in a row, lead by four games and have lost only four of their last 28 games.

On July 13, 1956, they had played 79 games, stood 53-26, had won six in a row, led by 7½ and had lost six of their last 28.

Casey Stengel's AL choppers made it 14 in a row (13 this year) over Kansas City Friday night with a 4-2 victory on a three-run homer by Harry Simpson, late of the A's. That gave the Yankees their largest lead of the season, what with Chicago's place White Sox idled by rain.

Baltimore dipped back to sixth place, losing 8-6 at Cleveland as the Indians gained a share of fourth place with Detroit. The Tigers defeated Boston 5-3 with Jim Bunning winning his 11th despite a pair of home runs by Ted Williams.

In the National League, St. Louis retained a two-game lead as Sam Jones two-hit New York's Giants 5-1. Milwaukee regained second place, beating Pittsburgh 5-4 after Philadelphia slipped to set the record in 1952, grossing $1,172,404 on the winners. Tack's first 22 stakes winners this spring won $729,292, meaning that the Black Lick, Pa., coal miner's son has walked off with more than $50,000 for himself in stakes winnings for less than six months.

"He knows how to maneuver a horse," says Arcaro. "He learned at the half mile tracks, which are the best places to learn. You try to help boys around the big tracks here but it's not the same; the competition is too tough."

Shoes agrees with Arcaro, and adds:

"He's a good rider. He's got a lot of determination. He's real aggressive. He's not a real stylish rider, looking at him, but he gets the job done, and that's the main thing. He's a tough competitor."

BALTIMORE — Bill Ervine, a trainer associated with horse racing since he was 12, is dead at the age of 68.

Ervine died in a Baltimore hospital Friday, of a fractured skull and back injuries suffered Thursday while galloping a thoroughbred at the Joseph Nechamkin Breeding Farm at nearby Pikesville.

Ervine had spent 27 years with the Edward F. Whitney Stable, first as a rider, later as a trainer. Sun Beau was among the horses he had trained.

RAIN HALTS TENNIS

MILWAUKEE — Rainy weather forced postponement of Friday's quarter-final competition in the Western Open tennis tournament. Officials said the entire slate will be played today.

Top-seeded Vic Seixas of Philadelphia will meet Roger Werksman of UCLA as his quarter-final foe. Darlene Hard, Montebello, Calif., No. 1 for the women, will meet Judy Hagan of Middletown, Ohio.

Kramer said Gonzales told him that he was going to stay in Los Angeles and be a movie star, that he didn't need tennis.

"The entire argument was over five per cent, or about $20,000 over an 18-month period," said Kramer. "I was not going to budge from my offer. Nor have I bugged. Nor will I budge."

Dodgers Defeat Rhinelanders

Don Newcombe Wins Tough Pitching Duel

BROOKLYN — No fisticuffs marred the hostilities between the Cincinnati Redlegs and Brooklyn Dodgers Friday night. It was all baseball.

But like Thursday's fight-pocked game, it was another sore trial for the Rhinelanders. They were beaten 3-1 by big Don Newcombe, and dropped into the second division.

The game was a tough duel between Newcombe and Cincinnati's John Klippstein, who allowed the Dodgers only four hits.

Two of the Dodger safeties were triples, the winning edge. Gino Cimoli belted the capper in the eighth inning that scored two runs.

Klippstein was riding a 1-1 tie at the start of the eighth, but Junior Gilliam walked, Elmer Valo singled and Cimoli directed his big blast to right center field.

Brooks Lawrence took over the mound after that and held the Dodgers hitless. But the Reds were unable to mount a compensating rally in the ninth.

Newcombe, who didn't walk a man and fanned seven, doled out only five hits, two of them to Gus Bell.

The Reds had tied the game in the seventh when George Crowe and Ed Bailey singled and moved up on a sacrifice by Pete Whisenant. Crowe went home on Alex Grammas' easy grounder out.

Brooklyn took a one-run headstart in the second inning when Gil Hodges powered a triple to left center field and came home on Campanella's sacrifice fly.

The loss, Cincinnati's seventh in a row, made this the longest string the Reds have sustained since 1954. It put the Reds 4½ games back of the National League-leading St. Louis Cardinals.

The last of the series with Brooklyn comes today, with Hal Jeffcoat slated to oppose John Podres.

Philadelphia Defeated By Last Place Chicago

By ED WILKS

Unimagineable bunch these New York Yankees. They change a few names in the cast every now and then, even get into a bit of a scramble for the American League lead once in awhile—but day by day, year by year it's the same old stuff.

Take today, July 13. They've played 79 games, stand 53-26, have won six in a row, lead by four games and have lost only four of their last 28 games.

On July 13, 1956, they had played 79 games, stood 53-26, had won six in a row, led by 7½ and had lost six of their last 28.

In the National League, St. Louis retained a two-game lead as Sam Jones two-hit New York's Giants 5-1. Milwaukee regained second place, beating Pittsburgh 5-4 after Philadelphia slipped to third, three games shy, with a 5-2 defeat by the last-place Chicago Cubs. Brooklyn, despite only four hits, took fourth place from Cincinnati, slapping a seventh successive defeat on the Redlegs 3-1—with none of the fisticuffs which sparked Thursday night's meeting.

Simpson delivered his payoff sock Friday night against Ralph Terry — the young righthander traded by the Yanks in the June 15 deal that shifted Simpson to New York.

Mickey Mantle's 24th homer and Vic Power's ninth had left it tied 1-1 for Simpson's blast. Don Larson was the winner.

Rookie Dick Brown, Rocky Colavito and Gene Woodling hammered two-run homers for the Indians. Mike Garcia won it in relief after the Orioles blew a 6-0 lead to end their one-day stay in the first division.

Bunning gave up successive homers to Williams in the first and third innings. Williams' 21st and 22nd homers were good for all three Red Sox runs.

The Cards backed up Jones' stuff with home runs by Stan Musial, Al Dark and Don Blasingame. Jones lost a no-hitter when Whitey Lockman singled in the sixth, then gave up his shutout when Willie Mays homered with two out in the ninth. Jones, now 7-3, and Ruben Gomez, 10-8 with the defeat, were warned about beanballs after throwing "dust-bats" at each other, but afterward said they were good friends and it was all good clean fun.

Hank Aaron belted his 28th home run, tops in the majors, and Johnny Logan, subbing for injured shortstop Felix Mantilla, hit his

Harold Gomes Scores TKO Over Perez

CLEVELAND — "Boy, did he surprise me with that right in the second round," said Lulu Perez Friday night, as he sat holding an ice pack to a thick bandage over his left eye.

Earlier Perez had just been the victim of a technical knockout by Harold Gomes in 1:10 of the sixth round of their scheduled 10 round televised lightweight boxing match staged in a factory cafeteria.

It was a unique locale for a television fight, and could start a trend. Other big factories across the country have shown an interest.

Gomes hit Perez, a 24-year-old former featherweight, with both lefts and rights for four rounds. Gomes, also a natural featherweight, was fighting at his heaviest—130 pounds, a half pound more than Perez.

In the fifth round, Perez rallied to the cheers of the spectators, and won the round on all but one judge's card. But in the sixth, Gomes opened the cut again and referee Mike Minnich stopped it.

"Yes, the ref was right," lamented Perez. "The blood was in my eye and I couldn't see."

The factory, where 10,000 workers make jet aircraft parts, is in suburban Euclid, about 15 miles from downtown Cleveland.

Western Junior Golf Title To Be Decided

LAFAYETTE, Ind. — Don Essig, Indiana State junior champion from Indianapolis, and Jack Moore of Duncan, Okla., met today over the 36-hole route of Purdue University's hilly South Course for the Western Junior Golf championship.

Essig, 18-year-old medalist, and Moore, 19-year-old Big Seven individual champion, won close matches Friday in the semi-finals.

Moore, who will be a junior at University of Oklahoma next year, defeated Ronnie Atwell of Indianapolis on the 19th hole with a par 4.

DRIVER IS CHALLENGED

SAN PEDRO, Calif. — Juan Manuel Fangio of Argentina, world champion racing driver, today was offered up to $6,500 to accept a challenge to race in the 1958 Indianapolis Memorial Day classic.

Floyd Clymer, Los Angeles publisher of Auto Books, made the offer. He said it was a direct result of the failure of Fangio and several top European drivers to compete against American drivers in last month's 500-mile race at Monza, Italy.

Canadian Open Record Broken

Bayer Holds 3-Stroke Golf Tourney Lead

KITCHENER, Ont. — Mammoth George Bayer, who has kicked away a handful of tournament victories by last-minute blunders, carried a three-stroke lead today into the final stages of the $25,000 Canadian Open Golf Tournament.

"If I'm not careful," said the heavy swinger from Los Angeles, "I'm going to develop a second-place complex."

Bayer shot a sizzling 64—breaking the old record by one stroke—in Friday's third round and held a three-stroke margin over Bill Casper Jr., of Bonita, Calif.

Bayer's three-day total was 202, better than par by 11 strokes.

Bayer finished second this year four times — in the Mexico City and Kansas City Opens, at the Western Open two weeks ago in Detroit and in the Montreal Open last week.

"I could have won all four of them," said Bayer.

In the third place here with a 206 total is the man who defeated Bayer in a sudden death Western Open playoff, Doug Ford. Another stroke behind Ford is Joe Conrad, the 1955 British amateur titlist from San Antonio Tex.

Casper, Ford and Conrad all were under par yesterday, the hefty Casper and Conrad recording three-under-par 68s and Ford getting a 70.

Katula clinched his match by winning four holes in a row starting with the fifth, building up a lead which couldn't be erased.

Ross and Saunders staged a seasaw match, neither being able to go more than one up until the final 12 holes was halved. Shave, with his five under par performance, didn't give Sporre a chance.

Gack, one up at the turn, birdied the 10th and won the 14th and 15th with pars.

Saunders had 6 birdies in his losing fight against Ross and Nicklaus had 6 in bowing to Gack.

If Gack wins today's match, he will be the first Public Links player to reach the finals against the private club players since Vince Leskoski lost the championship to Dick Evans at Mansfield in 1949.

Kenmar Nips Westville In Final Rally

Hendron's, Old Dutch, Eljer Win Tourney Games

By MARK MILLER

Hendron's edged Stepanic's 2-1. Kenmar nipped Westville with a last inning rally 6-5. Old Dutch whipped Lisbon VFW 7-1, and Eljer crushed Herron's 10-1 in the Columbiana County softball tournament at Kelley Park last night.

Satch Altomare of Hendron's and Glenn Mercer of Stepanic's gave brilliant performances in a pitcher's duel. Altomare hurled a two-hitter at the losers, and Mercer pitched a six-hitter against the winners.

Hendron's tallied the second marker of the game in the top of the fourth. Baisley singled to center, and Hahn bunted safely, putting runners on first and second. Wyss was out on an attempted bunt, both runners holding their bases. Schoeni bounced out third to first, and Hahn taking third. Altomare rolled out short stop to first.

In the bottom half of the fifth stanza Stepanic's Mercer flew out to center and Myers and McNeely walked. Bozick singled, scoring Myers, and on the throw in, McNeely and Bozick moved to second and third. Beard rolled out second to first and Cobbs lined out to deep center field.

Westville rushed to an early lead and held a 5-1 margin going into the last half of the seventh inning.

Westville, the current Class A League leaders and last year's champs, scored three runs in the first inning. Grove led off with a triple and came home on an over-throw into the stands. Weizen- ecker singled, and went to third on a two base error. Downey singled scoring Weizen- ecker. Will Krabill singled, Downey moving to third, and on a sacrifice fly, Downey tallied.

KENMAR GOT THEIR FIRST run in the bottom of the fifth. Hughes reached first on an error, went to second on a ground ball, and then tallied on another error.

In the top of the seventh for Westville Grove hit an inside the park home run, and Downey followed by smashing a homer over the left field fence.

Then the Kenmar team stormed back.

Beatrice singled with one away. Reesh got a bunt single, and both runners scored when Huda was safe on an error.

Steits singled, putting runners on first and second, and Shoff smashed a triple off the left field fence, driving in two runs to tie the contest at five apiece. Cusic then singled to center, scoring Shoff, and the ball game was over.

Bill Herman pitched a neat four hitter against the Lisbon VFW nine, striking out nine, and his Old Dutch teammates backed him with eight hits, including two runs which produced four of the winners seven runs.

LISBON SCORED FIRST. Betteridge walked, Hammett reached first on an error, Betteridge taking second, and J. Siefke popped out to the catcher trying to bunt. Mattix lined out to center field, and Adams singled, scoring Betteridge. H. Siefke flied out to center field.

In the top of the second for Old Dutch, Williams walked and Klan smashed a long home run over the right center field fence. Roesti grounded out third to first, Allen- baugh struck out, and Herman popped out to second.

In the seventh frame with the score 5-1 Old Dutch added two more insurance runs. Zavarilli flied out to center field, Vizzuso struck out, and Moore walked. Grimes then blasted a tremendous home run over the deep center field fence.

Eljer easily racked up their second tourney victory, scoring eight runs in the first frame.

Dickey led off with a walk, Stoffer bunted safely and W. Miller sacrificed the runners up a base. H. Miller reached second on an error, both Dickey and Stoffer scoring. Oderizzi walked, Peppel reached first on a fielder's choice to load the bases, and Patterson drilled a single into left field, scoring H. Miller and Oderizzi.

FIFE REACHED FIRST on an interference pay by the catcher to once again fill the bases. Dickey, batting for his second time in the first inning, proceeded to smack a grand slam home run past the right fielder.

Herron's scored their only run when Mountz walked and Halderman hit a hard line drive to the shortstop who threw wildly to first in a double play attempt. Mountz took second and Cope reached first safely on the second sacker's error, Mountz scoring.

In the second inning with one out Bill Oderizzi hit a terrific home run over the left field fence for Eljer's ninth run. Eljer tallied their final run when W. Miller walked. H. Mier bunted safely and Oderizzi flied to the right field.

H. Miller went to third and scored as Patterson rolled out third to first.

QUITS MAYOR'S RACE

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP)—Nominated for re-election on the Republican ticket, Mayor John Gold of Dennison filed a withdrawal notice with the Board of Elections Thursday. He said he withdrew because a new state law doing away with the mayor's court will drastically reduce city income from fines and make municipal financing too much of a headache.

Evacuees Will Head For Columbiana In CD Test On Sunday

COLUMBIANA — Columbiana is ready to receive Youngstown evacuees tomorrow afternoon in the civil defense test, "Operation Alert 1957," when a large-scale trial of emergency evacuation will be carried out. The village civil defense auxiliary police will be on duty in full force to supplement the work of the regular police.

At traffic in town was stopped for 15 minutes at 12:10 p.m. Friday when the air raid siren sounded a test alert.

For the mass evacuation from Youngstown Sunday afternoon, Columbiana civil defense police will be on duty on Route 164 from Columbiana to North Lima. The plan is for evacuees to stream south from North Lima in a double line along Route 164, traffic to be dispersed from the public square, although in reality, it would probably be directed on south.

MISS MIRIAM RACHAEL Sittler, daughter of Chaplain Carl M. Sittler, USN, retired, and Mrs. Sittler, as united in marriage Saturday afternoon, June 22, in the U.S. Naval Hospital chapel in Chelsea, Mass., with William Edgar Howard III, son of Rear Admiral William E. Howard, Jr., commander of Boston Navy Yard.

Chaplain and Mrs. Sittler are former Columbiana residents and retain their membership in Jerusalem Lutheran church.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Henry E. Horn of Harvard University Lutheran church and the bride's father, Mrs. Harry Eberhardt of Columbiana, aunt of the bride, served as matron of honor, and Miss Marjorie Wilhelm of Columbiana was her cousin's flower girl. James Dexter Clifford of Rochester, N. Y., was best man. Following the ceremony, about 300 guests attended a reception in the Officers Club of Boston Navy Yard.

The bride, a graduate of Oberlin college, studied at the university of Munich, Germany, under the junior-year-abroad program of Wayne University. Mr. Howard, graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, received his master's degree from Harvard, where he is now working toward a Ph.D. degree.

Chaplain Sittler has been at the Lutheran Service Center in Kaiserlauten, Germany, to which he will return at the end of a three-month leave. He is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Moses Sittler of near Petersburg and formerly attached in Youngstown, where he organized Faith Lutheran Mission in Bond St. His wife, the former Miss Mary Wilhelm, was once a teacher in Columbiana schools.

STUDENT COUNCIL OF Columbiana High School has scheduled a record hop in Joshua Dixon School from 9 to 11:30 p.m. today, with junior and senior high school and college students invited.

It will be the second of four summer vacation dances scheduled, the remaining two set for Saturdays, July 27 and Aug. 17. Proceeds of the series will go toward the purchase of a record player for the High School.

COLUMBIANA AUXILIARY of Salem Hospitals will meet in the Methodist church at 10 a.m. Monday to sew, those attending to take lunch. Coffee will be provided.

Boy Drowned, Another Missing In Swim Party

CLEVELAND (AP)—One boy was drowned, another is missing and a third rescued following a tragic swimming party in the Rocky River at nearby Olmsted Falls Friday night.

Drowned was Dennis Fyfe, 16. Missing is Denny Paetsch, 16. Both are from Cleveland. The rescued youth is Dick Smart, 18, of Mentor.

The three boys were swimming in the calm water above a small dam in the river, according to police.

Paetsch was standing on the rim of the dam when the current apparently knocked him off balance and into the turbulent water four feet below.

Fyfe and Smart went over the dam in an attempt to save Paetsch who was swept away in the swift current. Fyfe struck his head on a rock, firemen said, and drowned. Smart was trapped in the rocks. Firemen rescued when two firemen tossed him a line.

YWCA Board Maps Building Program

The YWCA board of directors will hold its monthly meeting Monday evening at 7:30 to discuss materials, decorations and equipment for the new unit.

The session will be held in the YW quarters, 511 E. State St., second floor.

The Columbiana County Trades Council union members and the Columbiana County Building Trades Association as well as area suppliers and subcontractors are organizing the necessary labor and amount of material needed to build the YWCA. John Kelly of Lisbon is union council business representative; and John Hollinger of Salem heads the Building Trades Association.

The YW building committee will inspect YW center at Elyria Wednesday to ascertain the type of materials desired. Committee members are Beman Ludwig, Albert Hanna, Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers, Mrs. Frank Brian, Mrs. Fred Cope.

Union representatives and contractors will get together July 25 at 7:30 p.m. with the advisory board to complete details of the building program. Kelly will show samples of materials at that session, and the building committee will report on the results of their Elyria journey.

An option on the Blanche Lase property on N. Lincoln Ave. was taken up by the YW board July 1. The home on the property will be used for a YW home, an annex to be built there.

The YW has been established as a result of the $40,000 bequest by Mrs. Edith Ritz and a funds campaign which so far has netted $33,373.

The YW quarters will be closed Monday through July 29 because of the secretary's vacation. For information persons may call ED 2-4232 and mail pledges to the building fund of the YWCA, Box 201, Salem.

Drive For VD Training In Schools Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Health Department has announced plans to begin a statewide campaign for venereal disease training in all public schools.

A department spokesman said the training is designed to combat the "alarming" increase of VD among teenagers.

Walter C. Hughes, federal representative in charge of the department's senior health program and the venereal disease control section, said the department has been investigating outbreaks of syphilis and gonorrhea in several high schools.

Hughes reported outbreaks occurred this year at high schools in Ashland, Williams, Licking and Summit counties. He added that many teenagers also contracted VD in the Dayton - Middletown area last April.

He said the outbreak exposed 150 persons to syphilis in Butler, Warren and Montgomery counties.

The health official said of 7,500 persons treated for gonorrhea last year, 1,200 were teenagers. Complete figures for 1957 are not available, Hughes said, but there is evidence of a steady rise of VD in the teenage population.

Hughes said the department's campaign will be headed by a coordinator whose job will be to break down public resistance to the instruction idea and assist local agencies in reporting new VD cases.

The health official said "complicity" by local health officials and the delay of education leaders to authorize VD instruction in public schools is responsible for the rise of VD among teenagers.

He Went The Second Mile

A few years ago a young businessman joined with several of his associates in a money-raising project to send a group of youngsters to summer camp. Each agreed to pay the way of one boy for a two-week period.

Ordinarily the giving of money for this purpose means the end of the contributor's interest. He knows that sometime during the summer a boy, unknown to him, will go to camp. He has done all that has been asked of him, so why do more?

But in this case, the young businessman had other ideas. He wanted to know something about the boy who would go to camp as a result of his contribution.

HE OBTAINED the boy's name and address from the camp director and called at the home. He found a mother and two children living under most difficult circumstances.

There was little food from day to day, the mother could not find regular work, and the children often were forced to stay at home for days at a time because of illness and inadequate clothing.

The young businessman checked with various authorities to determine why this family was in distress. He questioned school officials about the children; the boy was falling behind in his work because of repeated absence from class.

From all he learned, here was a deserving mother who, with her two children, was caught in a web of misfortune and hardship through no fault of her own.

His first move was to outfit and prepare the boy properly for camp. He spent hours with the lad, building his confidence and planting enthusiasm for the experience ahead. They met almost every day to make sure everything was in readiness. Then, when the boy was on his way, he went to work on the over-all family problem.

Today, the mother and children are in better living quarters. The mother has a regular job. The older of the two children soon will finish high school. And the boy who went to summer camp for the first time only a few years ago is now a healthy, active member of his school class.

A week does not pass that he and his good friend, the young businessman, do not spend some time together.

The Bible tells us, when we are asked to go a mile, to go a second mile; when we are asked to do a little, to do more than a little; when we are asked to take on a normal share of responsibility for a fellow man in distress, to take on more than a normal share.

We are not expected to do more than we can do, but so often we stop short of the full extent to which we can be helpful, when a little time, a little effort and a lot of genuine interest would mean so much.

The second mile is no longer than the first, but when you add the two together, you have gone twice as far.

CAN YOU LAUGH
AT DUCKLINGS?

Betty can laugh at ducklings. She remembers that classic of the Ugly One who grew up to be a stately swan. Betty laughs because she understands the story. She knows that some people, like ducklings, often scorn someone who is different.

But she knows, too, from her religious training, that there are times when a person must face the scorn of others and be different. In fact, already she has found that a primary aim of Christianity is to change life for the better ... to help the individual be different so the world can be different.

Not everyone can laugh at ducklings. Some folks take quite seriously the dread of being different. For instance, there are men and women who don't attend Church, but who would like to. They simply feel awkward about breaking away from an indifference which they think is expected of them.

You can make it easy for the hungry-but-hesitant to attend Church. Always invite someone to worship with you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Guarding Your Health

By DR. EDWIN P. JORDAN

Kidney Stones Treatment

Mrs. W. inquires about the treatment of kidney stones and whether they can be dissolved.

It is easiest to answer the second part of the question first. There is no medicine which can be counted added to the outside of the stone, safely.

Actually, they are not "stones" at all, but are chemical compounds which have crystallized out of the urine because the latter does not hold them in solution and eliminate them in that fashion.

They form in some part of the kidney, usually in a sort of open space in that organ known as the kidney pelvis. Generally they grow slowly as the chemical is added to the outside of the stone.

Consequently, symptoms from kidney stones may be absent for an X-ray film which may have been taken for some entirely different reason.

There are several kinds of chemicals which can precipitate out of the urine and form stones. If a stone is removed or passes, it should be analyzed carefully to find out its nature so that the proper diet or treatment can be employed in an effort to avoid the formation of additional stones.

One of the common varieties of stones is made up of what are called oxalates. In this variety of stone formation, one normally cuts down or eliminates those foods which contain a lot of oxalic acid. Among those are rhubarb and eggplant. A full list of oxalate-containing foods should be obtained from the physician.

The greatest trouble with stones usually occurs when they begin to move. Most of them have sharp, ragged edges. As they move down the urinary passageways, they cut into the delicate tissues producing bleeding and pain which is likely to be terrific. It may take several injections of morphine or similar drugs before the victim can do anything but twist and turn in agony.

There are two steps in the treatment of an attack of pain or colic from a kidney stone. The first has to do with the particular stone which is passing. Often the stone passes by itself, but sometimes its passage has to be aided.

The next step is to find out if there are more stones, to analyze chemically the one passed and to advise the patient with regard to diet and other measures.

Driver Was Reading Map; Car Was Going 90

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Twice Cpl. Dwight Carey tried to get ahead of the automobile traveling 90 m.p.h. on the Ohio Turnpike. And twice he had to drop back as the car swerved in front of his cruiser.

Carey, a state highway patrolman, noticed that the driver was steering with one hand and staring down toward the seat.

Finally, the corporal managed to pass the car and make the driver stop.

Out stepped 70-year-old T. Patrick Powers of Chicago, who explained sheepishly:

"I was reading my road map. I wanted to see where I was going."

Powers was fined $50 and costs for speeding by nearby Swanton Mayor Arthur Smith.
